1. the strange happenings

Hey everyone. This fic is a part of my fic 'cos: clash of ships'. This fic is a type of side story like the movies of the anime. So here goes my fic.

Location: the reverse world near the region, reverse to kalos region of the real world.

"Grrr  !" screamed giratina as a shadow ball strikes it. It fired a dragon breath towards the figure which fired the shadow ball. The figure dodged it. The legendary dragon was full of scratches as if it was fighting for quite a long time.

A portal was open and through it three more figures came in.

"Giraaa!" it cried angrily.

The figures, eight in total, again fired shadow balls on giratina. Giratina was too tired to dodge them and all of them hit it. Giratina cried in pain. It got enraged and fired dragon breath in various directions. Some of them hit the figures and two of them fell on the ground.

"Now!" one of the figures shouted in a strange voice. The voice was ghostly. As soon as it said it all of the figures made a dash on giratina, who was still firing random dragon breaths. Giratina was taken aback by the sudden action and fell back. One of the figures gave a cry after giratina fell down and another figure appeared from the portal and entered into the reverse world. Giratina saw this and got angrier and released itself from the clutches of the figures. It fired an ominous wind at the figure. But before the attack collide, the figure fired a beam and another portal opened and the figure went into it.

"Garrrrr!" it cried as the figures again jumped on it.

_Location: kalos region. Near the banks of a lake in a forest, seven kilometers away from sombre town. _

Time: night

Two tents were set up by the banks of the lake and a fire was lit. Two figures were sitting beside the fire and were talking.

"Aah! Didn't I said you that camping will be nice for us to remove the tiredness and forget the tensions?" one of them said.

"Yeah! You were right!" the other spoke up.

"Matt. Did you hear that?" the first person spoke up as a small sound came from the lake.

"Yeah. Leave it jim." Maybe it's just a pokemon. The sound came again. This time it was larger. The sound sounds like as if something came to the surface of the lake.

"Matt. The officials said that there are some dangerous water pokemon here!" jim said in alarm.

"Yeah. Bring the torch. Its in my tent. Let's take a look at it. Maybe it's some kind of rare pokemon." Matt said. Jim went into matt's tent and brought the torch. The sound came again.

"Hey. The sound came from there." Matt pointed. Jim shone the torch towards where matt was pointing. First none of them could see anything but then matt spoke up as he noticed something.

"Hey shine the torch there, where you shone just now." Jim shone where matt said and then he too saw something. They saw two strange red objects which were side by side and were gleaming in the light of the torch.

"What in the world are they?" jim said. They objects started to move and they started to rise. Both of them only stared on the objects which were gaining height.

"Matt! Those are eyes!" jim spoke up as the saw the body. Soon a large figure formed in front of them and was staring at them. Both of them started to tremble in fear.

"Is it a pokemon?" matt asked almost in a whisper.

"Maybe."

They saw that the figure had unfolded its wings. It gave a loud scream as it flapped its wings. That scream made their soul to jump out of their body. The figure started to head towards them.

"Matt! Run! It's coming for us!" jim shouted and both of them started running towards the forest. The creature kept following them.

"Let's separate." Matt said and went in a different direction. The creature went after matt.

"Matt!" jim shouted and went after the creature and matt. But he got lost.

"Matt! Where are you?" he shouted.

There was no reply. Then he heard a scream and heard matt shouting. He dashed towards the direction from where the sounds came.

"Matt!"

He searched for some time and soon saw a figure lying on the ground. He ran towards it and saw matt. He was horrified to see his condition. He was lying senseless. Foam came out from his mouth. And his skin was ice pale. His veins came out. He could see two deep marks like the ones that appear when a sevipser bites but the marks were larger and deeper. A tear came out of his eyes as he saw his best friend's condition. Then he heard another scream and he looked up and saw the creature coming towards him. He made a run but the creature outmatched him and brought him on the ground.

He for the first time saw its face. It was completely strange and its whole body was covered with black scar like designs. Its body colour was white and black. Its eyes were completely red and it didn't have pupils. Its face looked a little like a noivern. It was large. He saw its sharp teeth. Its wings were made of flame like thing, about which he had no idea. The overall appearance was ghostly.

The creature stared at him for some time and then bit him. He gave a scream as he felt as if his energy was drained out. He fell on the ground senseless, his condition just like matt's. the creature gave a cry and flew away.

Location: A little away from matt and jim's camp, in another camp.

Time: a little before jim was bitten.

"Hey. Did you hear that?" one of the people of the camp said as a scream went through the air.

"Yeah! It came from the direction of the lake. Matt and jim are camping there. Something might have happened to them. The scream was not friendly!" another one said.

"Let's see what happened." another one suggested. All of them agreed and headed towards the direction of the scream. After some time they heard another sound but this time it wasn't the scream like the before one. They all increased their speed. They could see a large figure from the distance. They almost reached when the creature gave a cry and flew away. Then they saw a figure lying on the ground.

"Guys! It's jim. His condition is not nice. Someone go find matt. I think he too has been attacked. Someone bring a first aid."

Location: outskirts of sombre town.

Time: noon.

"Guys, almost there." Clement said.

"Well I'm thinking that the name of this city is strange!" serena said.

"Why is that, serena?" ash asked.

"Well in kalosian sombre means dark." Serena said.

"To that topic, sombre town is known for its strange atmosphere. Many strange things happen. And above all this town is an abode of ghost and dark type pokemon. People say that the ghost and dark pokemon of around this town are very strong. This attracts many trainers to this town." Clement said.

"Wow! This place is awesome!" ash said. A little distance away a ganger appeared. "A ganger!"

"Pika!"

The ganger came near then and gave a nasty laugh and made faces in front of serena and bonnie.

"I don't think so, ash!" serena and bonnie said in unison.

"Why? Don't you like ghost pokemon? Come on. It's just playing with you." Ash asked a little annoyed from their reaction.

"We like ghost pokemon. But they are a little creepy!" serena said as the ganger went away.

"Well I don't like them much but unless they are bugs I don't care!" misty said. Then she shook a little thinking about bugs.

"Guys we are here. Sombre town." Clement said. They all saw the big board on which sombre town was written. Some pumpkins with face engraved on them were kept near the entrance.

"Strange coloured board! It's not painted but still it's dark. No wood is such black!" ash exclaimed.

"As I said strange things happen around this town. You will see more." Clement said, "And why this pumpkins are kept here? Strange, isn't?" They all entered the town.

The people of the town gave them strange looks as they made their way towards the pokemon centre.

"Amm? Whys these people are giving us weird looks?" bonnie asked.

"Dede nene!" the little mouse said and hid inside the bag.

"Dedene's not liking here!" bonnie said.

"I think the people here are not much friendly!" misty said.

They could see that the houses were strange. They looked scary. They could see pumpkins here and there, all had faces on them. Soon they reached the pokemon centre. The pokemon centre too looked strange and scary. Strange light were hanging here and there and a scary stuffed haunter was kept outside the centre. They all entered the pokemon centre and looked for nurse joy to hand over their pokemon. They saw her talking over the video phone. They approached her and they saw that they were talking to a man who looked like a doctor. They could hear their conversation.

"So you can see that it is a very bad situation. Have you got the photos which I sent you." The man asked.

"Yes doc but I'm not able to recognize the marks. I never saw such marks. And I don't know of any such pokemon which can do such thing. I even searched in my books but got nothing. It definitely is a serious problem." Nurse joy replied.

"We are doing our best. They aren't dead but all of their energy has been absorbed. I don't think they will be able to move again in their life! They will be paralyzed! We are trying our best." The doctor said.

"I know doctor." Nurse joy said, "Bye. I hope you enjoy Halloween!"

"Yeah. You too. Send me if you get any information." The doctor said and he hung the phone.

All five heard the conversation and they got alarmed when they heard the dead part. Nurse joy saw them.

"Welcome!"

"Nurse joy can you look after our pokemon?" ash asked.

"Yeah sure!"

"Nurse what's happening?" bonnie asked. Nurse gave a sigh.

That's the end of this chapter. The chapters wont be too long. This fic wont give much importance on shipping as my other fic. Hope you all enjoy this fic. After completing this I will get back to cos. Please review. **

2. what's going on!

"Nurse what's happening?" bonnie asked. Nurse gave a sigh.

"Well last night two people were attacked by a pokemon and were left in a very bad condition. Many people saw the pokemon but none were able to identify it. The doctor sent me some images of the victims and I'm puzzled too. I never saw such marks which they acquired."

Nurse joy said, "Doc said that they will be alright but will be paralyzed. He diagnosed some strange venom in their blood!"

All of them were silent.

"It seems that you are new here so be careful and don't go near the lake region. They were found in that region. The incident probably is in news." The nurse said and took the remote and switched on the television. She opened the news channel.

"Yesterday around 8:30 pm, two people were attacked by a strange pokemon. These two people were identified as matt lance and jimmy grey. They were camping near the lake region and they were attacked by this pokemon. The nearby campers reported that they heard screams and they went near the source of the scream and saw a large creature flying away and found matt and jimmy's senseless bodies. They are in sombre town hospital and are in icu. The lake region is now closed. No one know from where the pokemon came from. They witnesses said that it had ghostly appearance. they aren't even sure if it's a pokemon. Many locals are of the belief that these happened due to the Halloween. And talking about Halloween we have asked the people if this festival will not be celebrated due to the danger of this strange pokemon but the people replied that they don't care. We will keep in touch about these happenings and inform you all if any more such accidents take place. With thisâ€¦" the reporter went on.

"Its not good!" bonnie said.

"Yeah!" nurse joy said, "But now we should focus on the festival."

"Amm nurse joy? What is this Halloween festival?" clement asked.

"Oh this is a festival which is being celebrated in this town for quite long time." Nurse joy said, "You must know that sombre town is known for its scary atmosphere and ghost and dark type pokemon. Today is the moon less night and on this day many strange things happen. All the ghost and dark pokemon becomes excited on this very day. Their power level increases and many odd phenomenons take place."

"Like?" ash asked curiously.

Nurse joy gave a mysterious grin and gave a wink and said, "You will find out!"

A sudden strange feeling went through the spines of each of them.

"Oh so this is the reason why the town is decorated strangely?" misty asked.

"Yeah. You may have seen many pumpkins odd decorations etc." joy said.

"Yeah and we found it creepy!" bonnie said. Nurse joy gave a laugh.

"Well give your pokemons. I will heal them."

Time: Evening. The sun has set.

"Are you ready?" ash shouted.

"Yeah. Coming!" serena shouted back from her room. Misty, clement and bonnie were waiting outside. Soon all of them got together.

"Ready to go?" ash asked.

"Yeah!" all said in unison.

"Pika!"

"Dede nene!"

The group started to roam in the streets of sombre town. A lot of ghost and dark pokemons were on the streets. The group never saw such a lot of ghost and dark pokemons together. There was no moon and the lights were lit. But they have to agree that though the town was looking a little scary at the moment, it was beautiful. They reached the centre of the town and saw many people on the streets. They were amazed that these were the same people who were giving them strange looks when they first entered the town. They were laughing and chatting with each other. A strange music was being played. Though it was scary they liked it.

Many thoughts were going on in serena's mind as she enjoyed the environment. She was thinking if she could spend this beautiful evening with ash aloneâ€¦ but that would be selfishness! She shook this thought from her mind. But misty wasn't thinking about anything much.

Suddenly they heard a loud noise. The sound was of thunder. They all looked up in the sky and saw clouds. Suddenly out of nowhere a mist came. It was not the time for a mist to come. They were all amazed. They heard a mightyena howling. The pleasant environment turned scary. They heard the other people cheering. They were confused. They heard someone shouting.

"Look up! Its forming."

They all looked up and saw that the dark clouds were turning red and blue. They just stared at such a strange phenomenon. Then they saw that the ghost type pokemon were rising upwards. They could hear more of dark pokemon howling. They then saw then the clouds were taking some strange shape. Out of nowhere a lightning came and the pokemons shot random shadow ball towards the sky. Then another thunder came and then saw that the clouds have taken strange face like shape. As soon as the second thunder came serena and misty dashed into ash's arms and bonnie into clement. The shadow ball mixed with the clouds and gave the face a more scary look. These all shook them. But they were amazed when they heard the people cheering. Some more thunder came and the pokemons were covered in a strange dark blue and red aura. Soon this all calmed down and they were relieved.

The mist went away and also the clouds. The howling stooped. Serena and misty were still holding on to ash. When they realized both of them separated with a blush. Ash didn't know anything neither did bonnie and clement as they were still shocked from the phenomenon they witnessed. Dedene and Pikachu were hiding behind their trainers.

"Hey!" a voice came from the backside. All five of them jumped at the voice and looked back and saw nurse joy grinning. He gave a sigh of relieve.

"We were scared! Don't do this again!" they all said in unison.

"Sorry." Joy said with a small laugh, "Did you all like it. I said you about strange phenomenon. Every year on this day this mist comes and the clouds do such things. But this time it went longer and the face was clearer. All this years the face was not as clear as today!"

"Hey are you feeling strange?" nurse joy said and yawned.

Soon the others yawned too. They heard a sound and saw that someone has fallen and then another one and then another. Ash saw that nurse joy, misty, serena, clement and bonnie had fallen too. He too was feeling dizzy. He yawned again and was finding it hard to stay awake. He too was going to sleep when..

"Pikachu!" Pikachu gave a thunderbolt.

"Agghhh!" ash jumped, "Pikachu! Why did you do that?"

Pikachu moved its hand around. Ash kneeled and checked on his friends.

"This is strange! Is this another strange phenomenon? They are asleep. All of them!" ash said. Dedene was trying to wake bonnie up.

Pikachu tugged on ash.

"What happen Pikachu?" ash asked.

"Pika." Pikachu said pointing in a direction. Ash saw that all the ghost and dark pokemons were walking towards certain direction.

"Let's follow them. Come on dedene." ash said.

They kept on following them and reached another part of the town. They saw that all the pokemon got collected and were bowing towards a direction. Ash heard something coming and quickly hid himself behind a building. They saw that something was coming down. A sudden fear ran across his body as a thought came on his mind. Can it be it? Is it the strange pokemon? But he was also curious and excited to see it. He could see something red was glowing in the dark. All the pokemon were bowing towards just stared at it. Soon a figure appeared. Ash gulped. He could feel his heart thumping hard. Soon the figure came out of the dark.

It was a darkrai. Ash thought- a darkrai? Its no unusual. Yeah it's a legendary but the people will definitely recognize it. And what's that thing glowing on its chest? And why is this darkrai looking so familier?

The darkrai looked here and there and then looked in the direction where ash was hiding.

"Who's there?!" it shouted. A talking darkrai!

"Come out. I know you are hiding." It said. Ash came out of his hiding. The darkrai stared at him.

"Ash?" it said, "Is that you?"

"Yeah. But who do you know me?" ash asked in confusion. He seems to remember something but its not coming on his mind.

"Ash I'm the darkrai of Alamos town. Alice? Don't you remember?" It said as it advanced towards him.

Ash thought for sometime and then it suddenly ringed the bell.

"Oh! I now remember you!" ash said, "But what are you doing here in kalos?"

"I have a task. Its nice that I got you. I eventually had to find you." It said.

"Why? And did you do all this?" ash asked.

"Yeah and I will tell you later. But we should go from here. It will not be safe for you here." It said.

"Not without my friends. But what is the problem?" ash asked.

"I will tell you. Where are your friends?"

Ash took him to his friends. Darkrai's eyes began to glow and all of a sudden ash saw he was in another place. It was day. He saw his friends on the ground still sleeping. Pikachu and dedene was with him. Then darkrai appeared in front of him. From a distance he saw a figure approaching.

"Alice?" ash said, disbelievingly.

"Hey ash. Welcome to Alamos town!" she said.

That's the end of this chap. Review whether you like it or not.

3. history disclosed

"Alice?" ash said, disbelievingly.

"Hey ash welcome to alamos town!" she said.

"Alice! But how can it be? I was in kalos?" ash asked.

"You are in sinnoh." She said with a smile. Then ash heard a sound. He saw his friends waking up. They all looked confused.

"Ash what's going on? Who is that girl and is that a darkrai?" clement said.

"Yeah it's a darkrai and this is alice, a friend of mine. Well we are in sinnoh. But I too don't have any idea how we got here." Ash said, "Alice these are my friends. Serenaâ€| mistyâ€| clementâ€| bonnieâ€| dedene and you know Pikachu." Ash introduced his friends.

"Hello! Nice to meet you all!" she greeted with a smile. All the others greeted back.

"I brought you all here. I teleported you all." Darkrai said.

"A talking darkrai!" all the others said in unison.

Alice and ash gave a chuckle.

"Yeah, it is." Ash said, "I met them when I was travelling through sinnoh. It's a long story." Ash said.

"Brother I was wondering if we were teleported how come its day here?" bonnie asked.

"Well I was thinking about that too!" ash said.

"Well," clement said adjusting his glasses with a spark on his glasses, "It's all science! As we are in sinnoh, we are on the opposite side of kalos. Due to rotation of our planet, when it's night in kalos it's day in sinnoh and vice versa."

"Amm.. I didn't get you!" ash said sheepishly.

"Aahh! Never mind!" clement said a little pissed.

The others gave a chuckle.

"You sound intelligent. I'm sure you will match with my husband!" alice said.

"Husband? Alice, are you married?" ash asked.

"Yeah, to tonio." She said with a blush.

"So you two married." Ash said.

"pika!"

"Ok. But will anybody say what's going on!" misty asked.

"Let's go to my house and all your confusion will be cleared." alice said.

_Location: kanto. Lavender town. _

Time: during all the chat with alice. It was night in kanto.

The large creature from before was hovering over lavender town. The creature then flew high and then dived on the pokemon tower. As it was about to make contact it gave out a beam and the top portion of the tower was blown into pieces. It then entered the tower. Inside the tower, the pokemon of the tower attacked at the intruder but was no match for it. The intruder came out after sometime with something red and dark blue, shining in its hand and gave a loud cry and flew away.

Location: sinnoh. Alamos town. Back with ash and his friends.

They all reached alice's house.

"Tonio! I'm back and darkrai too. And I have some friends with me!"
alice said.

Tonio came out after sometime, rubbing his eyes. He was definitely working on something.

"Ash!" he said, astonished.

"Hey tonio. Nice to hear about your wedding." Ash said, grinning.

Tonio blushed. "Amm.. are those your friends?"

"Yes."

Then they introduced each other.

"Now ash, direct to the topic, I will explain you all everything but I don't want anyone to interrupt me." Darkrai said. Everyone nodded.

"Let me explain you from the beginning. The history which we know about the world is not true." Darkrai began.

(The scene began to change. As darkrai explains the happenings take place in the scene. Ash and his friends cannot see the scene. Darkrai's speeh will be in italics.)

The scene was of complete darkness where a single point of light was there. The point of light began to grow larger and at last exploded.

The universe began with an explosion which gave out vast amount of energy. The energy formed into matters. Among these matters, a single cell was formed which turned into egg which later hatched into arceus, the first pokemon and the first life.

In the background the formation of arceus was shown.

After arceus was born, he decided to make a world which can be lived by many other life from the matter that was formed by the explosion. But he needed help. So he made three pokemon, the legendary creators. The three together created the world. Arceus then made palkia, dialka and giratina the rulers of space, time and antimatter respectively.

_Arceus then saw that there remained a chunk of pitch black matter which the three were not able to do anything with. He then made another creator, darkrex. _(pronounce it 'dar krex', its more suitable to hear)._ According to history known there are three creators but actually there are four dragons. Palkia, Dialka, Giratina and darkrex._

_Arceus made darkrex better than the previous three as he was getting better in creating life. Darkrex's strength was equal to the three dragons mixed. He created a dark dimension from the dark chunk. Arceus was proud of his creation. He gave the entire dark dimension to darkrex. _

Arceus then created the other legendaries and the normal pokemon. He then decided to create a different kind of species and thus created humans. He then created mirage kingdom and many other dimensions. There is a legend that giratina is an outcast but it's false. Giratina was made the ruler of reverse world.

_Arceus then joined the three main worlds together; the real world, the dark world and the reverse world. He made vortexes through which one world can be visited by the other world. The reverse world was the connector between the dark world and the real worlds. _

Arceus then saw that there was nothing in dark world. He thought that as the dark world was quite similar to real world it should have life. He then made pokemons for dark world. he then decided to make legendaries for the dark world too but darkrex insisted that he should make them. Arceus was easily taken in to darkrex request was he was his favorite and gave him powers to create the legendaries and extra power to make more pokemons.

Darkrex created some strange ghostly legendaries and made them his generals. He then created some strange pokemon. He had extra powers left and with some more dark matter and a strange kind of mineral he made a jewel which helped him to govern the dark world, as we thought. Arceus didn't question him and this was one of his biggest mistakes.

Darkrex became power hungry. Jewel which he created increased its and his power day by day. But we were not aware of this. The then made his generals bite all the pokemon made by arceus and this converted them into strange ghost like creatures.

_Arceus this time questioned him and he replied that he only improved which arceus believed. _

Time went by and the dark lord and his generals got powerful day by day. The jewel too became bigger and bigger. It formed many layers and made itself hard.

And soon the dark lord started a war against arceus and his other creations.

They all got collected in the reverse world.

"Darkrex! Why are you doing it?" arceus asked from the other end of the battlefield.

"Arceus time has come for this universe to have a better and stranger ruler!" he replied.

"I created you! You were my favorite. I gave you love and now you give me this. Do you really think that you are strong enough to beat me?" arceus said.

Darkrex gave a deadly smile and should him something on his chest. "I have the dark jewel!"

With that he bellowed, "Charge! I'll have arceus. Generals go after their filthy legendaries. Troops charge at their pokemon."

_They had eight generals but we knew what they can do. We were sure that darkrex used complete of his powers, given for making legendaries. The powers from which all the existing legendaries can be made were used t make only eight generals! And above all they had the power of the dark jewel. The battle took place. _

Darkrex army of pokemon and modified pokemon, which were all ghost and dark type as we can see, were getting heavy on our troops and we were no match against his generals and darkrex himself was gaining on arceus.

The scene shows pokemon lying here and there wounded. Dark and ghost type moves engulfing the other attacks of the pokemon of arceus army. Arceus was getting weaker and so we legendaries were.

"This is your end arceus. See around you! You are no match for us!" darkrex said as arceus was lying on the ground exhausted.

All the legendaries and arceus decided on a plan. According to the plan all the pokemon and the legendaries gave their power to arceus and arceus hit one single blow on the jewel.

"It's of no use. The jewel is harder than you think!" darkrex said with triumph.

But he was wrong. The jewel was not able to harden completely. As arceus gave more strength to his attack the jewel broke into seven pieces. As the jewel broke, darkrex and his troops automatically lost much of their power. They lost much more than we expected. Then we realized that they were connected to the jewel. Arceus loved him too much to destroy him so he banned darkrex and took the pieces under his custody. He then sealed their way into the reverse world and thus into real world. Darkrex out of anger sealed the way from his side too so that no one can enter dark world.

The scene ends.

"With the battle won everyone returned to the places. Arceus then decided to hide the pieces as they were too dangerous and they were emitting negative energy. So one piece was hidden in reverse world; one in heaven, the realm of arceus; one in mirage kingdom; three pieces were hidden in the real world. We had to find three places in the world where the crust was the strongest and found out lavender town in kanto, a forest in johto and sombre town in kalos. The smallest piece was hidden in kanto and the largest piece in kalos as the crust was the strongest there. The left over piece was the central piece of the jewel and it was too dangerous to be hidden anywhere and it made anyone weak who caught. Actually all the pieces makes anyone weak, due to which we had to find the strongest place, but this piece was the strangest. So it was decided that it would be protected by the most strong ghost pokemon, as it didn't affected dark and ghost pokemon and instead gave them power. Thus the piece was given to the strongest darkrai. After his dead it was passed on to another and now it is in my custody. Arceus went into a long sleep." Darkrai said.

"Is that strange thing on your chest the piece?" Ash asked astonished.

"Yes." Darkrai said calmly. He would have hit ash if he interrupted before but as he came to the conclusion he didn't.

"It's not finished. Remember the battle of dialga and palkia ash which took place due to the rising of arceus?" darkrai asked.

"Yes."

"Well the problems started from this point. During all these years darkrex was able to regain some of his strength. Due to the battle between dialga and palkia the reverse world weakened which led to the weakening of the seal. Darkrex came to realize this and made his troops attack and break the seal. But the seal was still too strong and he found a weaker spot near the kalos plate. During all this year the largest piece kept acting on the crust and made this weaker. Thus the dark pokemons were able to break into the reverse world. Last one month giratina has been continuously resisting their attacks. They found the piece in the reverse world and yesterday one of the generals was able to enter our world." darkrai said.

"Do you mean the strange pokemon who attacked the campers was one of the general?" all the kids asked in unison.

Darkrai nodded.

sorry if there is grammar mistakes. I checked them but i forgot to save and all the checking got erased.

4. omg

"Do you mean the strange pokemon who attacked the campers was one of the general?" all the kids asked in unison.

Darkrai nodded.

Tonio spoke up, "These pieces are also affecting the environment around it. The places where these pieces were hidden attracted a lot of ghost and dark pokemon. They get stranger around these pieces. You may have noticed it yourself when you all were in sombre town. These pieces also affect the people's character. Their forests, environment etc also gets affected! I have been researching on this."

"And you have seen those strange phenomena? They are due to the pieces. On this day the pieces get stronger. You have seen a strange face in the clouds, didn't you?" darkrai said.

All of them nodded.

"Well that was darkrex! On this day the shield becomes so weak they people can actually see darkrex's face!"

All of them shook when they thought of that horrible face.

"Hey everyone. Check this out." Alice called from a different room.

They all went into the room.

"We are here at the crash site." The reporter said on the television.

"Here we can see that the pokemon tower is in ruins."

"It's the pokemon tower in lavender town in kanto. I recognize it!" ash cried out.

"It's where the smallest piece is kept." Darkrai said.

All of them were horrified. Could it beâ€¦|

"We are in the tower. The ghost pokemon of the tower is nowhere to be seen. We are now in the basement. We can see that below the basement there is another room, whose existence was not known till today and we have a historian with us. What do you say about this?" the reporter asked.

"Well this place is in ruins. There are drawings all over the walls. I'm trying to analyze them. There is a central pillar with some strange space. Probably there was something kept." The man said.

"Thank you for your information." The reporter said and came out of the ruined tower and headed towards a civilian.

"We have some witnesses here." He said putting the mike in front of a woman.

"I was watching tv when I heard a loud crash. My house is near this tower. I thought that it can be the mischief of the pokemon living there but I decided to check what's up. I came out and heard sounds coming out of the tower and smoke was coming out of the tower but there was no fire. The top was blown. I waited for some time and then saw a strange figure emerging from the tower. It looked like a pokemon. It gave a loud cry and flew away carrying something in its hand. It was shiny and it emitted a strange aura. The creature was huge! It was a lot like the one which was described in the kalos news about the pokemon attack near sombre town." The woman said.

"Thank you. Our historian is of the belief that that strange object was kept in the space where he believed something was kept." The reporter said, "And with the creature described, could it be the one from kalos. The strange pokemon which has created a wave among the news channels and the researchers. We will keep you updatedâ€¦|."

"Is it..?" misty asked.

Darkrai nodded sadly, "They have two pieces now. They are now stronger."

All of them were horrified.

"Well now more is left to come. The consequence as the shield of the piece is broken will be dangerous." Darkrai said.

"what do you mean?" clement asked.

"As the piece was taken, the shield covering it is broken now and all the negative energy, released by the piece, absorbed by the shield will now be released and it will affect the people and pokemon and the surrounding area."

"It has already started." Tonio said as he brings his laptop, "See here. All this energy around lavender town."

"We have to react fast. Ash you are here for a reason. We have to move fast ash. We are losing time." Darkrai said.

"Where? What do you mean?" ash asked.

As ash said that a portal opened and ash was sucked into it and darkrai was nowhere to be seen.

"Where did he go?!" serena cried in fright.

"Don't worry. He is safe. Darkrai took him. You seen to take a lot of care of him." Alice said.

Serena blushed which was noticed by misty and alice. Alice gave a chuckle and misty gave a strange look to serena.

But then worry came over her. "Ash!" she said silently.

Location: the lake near sombre town, kalos region.

Time: its still night.

The water of the lake was disturbed as the water near the middle rose. Three figures emerged from the lake. All of them were like the previous creature.

"This place stinks. I wonder how general dyfus is managing here. At least he got a piece!" one of them said in a strange tone.

"Yeah this place stinks. We have to do our work or lord darkrex will be angry. He is getting restless!" another one of the said in the same strange tone.

Then all of them flew away.

Location: heaven! (don't know how to explain!)

Time: there is no time here!

Ash looked around him and saw everything was bright. He then saw darkrai in front of him.

"Where are we?" he asked.

"We are in the kingdom of arceus." He replied, "Follow me."

Ash did as he said and he took him to a large palace like open structure on the top of a mountain.

"Ash, this is the abode of arceus!" darkrai said.

Ash wasn't able to say anything. His mind was blown by the elegant look of the place.

Ash followed him into the palace like structure. As he entered, ash saw arceus and many legendaries.

Everyone in the room looked at them as they entered. Darkrai nodded at them and they nodded back. He then bowed before arceus. Ash was mind blown. As he was about to bow to arceus, as he was darkrai do it, something crashed on him and took him on the floor.
